The activities, readings, lectures, and assignments were very helpful and I learned a lot
The activities and assignments really helped develop my understanding of Microeconomics. Overall, I really enjoyed the class structure.
I think this course was amazing. I think the only think I would say is do more practice on our own before we do them as a class
One thing that I really liked that professor Davis did well was she had poll questions in class. This made principles of Economics more interesting because they showed if I understood the lectures in class. For a 2 hour and 15 minute period, we were extremely productive yet the topics didn't feel too rushed for learning them thoroughly. She always gave thorough answers to questions and I enjoyed her as a professor.
Everything in this course was done pretty well, from the poll question during class that checked my understanding all the way to the problem sets and ecomic puzzles that helped me think thoroughly about the topics we went over.
The lectures were extremely helpful and I really liked how they were structured.
Lectures were extremely helpful and review days were too. The assignments were difficult because applying what we had learned in class in such a short amount of time was challenging. I enjoyed the activities too.
The polls we do in class help a lot because Mrs. Davis does a very good job explaining the correct answer as well as explaining why the wrong answers were incorrect
I learned a lot from this class I hope it will help me next semester.
I learned a lot from the lectures, Mrs. Davis was the best.
Mrs Davis was awesome! I am very impressed with her ability to get all of the course load in and in a manor that was understandable.
Our practice problems helped us prepare for our assessments well, many assignments helped us think creatively and in a similar manner to an economist, and our lectures were engaging, very easy to understand, and left very few questions to be asked.
The activities and outside assignments really helped better my understanding of the material from this course. Extra problems were posted to help us in areas we may struggle in which was also very beneficial.

Please identify what you perceive to be the greatest strengths of this instructor's teaching.

Organization and passion for economics
She keeps everything very organized and also is very fair and realistic.
Communication
She would keep going over any questions we had until we understood the topic.
She would go over example problems for extensive reviewing in preparation for the midterm and final exam.
Her office hours were open and she was always willing to help when I was confused, trying her best to help me understand.
The greatest strength was being able to work through the problems and show them on the board and walk you step by step on how she did it.
Her greatest strength is her communication.
She was very good at communicating what class was going to be about and when everything had to be done.
Her understanding of the material and ability to explain it without overcomplicating it but just keeping it simple be able to help you understand the lesson
She was kind, understanding, and a great teacher. I learned a lot from her.
Being understanding with our schedules and getting the workload taught in time.
she definitely cares for all of the students, and is very concerned with us doing well in the class and properly understanding material. She's always willing to help us, (she's very generous with her office hours), and always gives us the opportunity to earn a good grade.
She was always willing to help outside off class time regardless of the time or if it was in her assigned office hours. Also, her preparation for class was very good; if we did not understand a topic she would come back with more examples/explanations the next day.

nothing
Just a little more independant work
I don't have really any recommendations, she was a great professor. For me, I wish that we had more group work, but I understand why we didn't just because there was so much material to cover quickly in 5 weeks.
Nothing that I can think of except the speed of the class but that's also because of the summer timeline.
I think she did a wonderful job. She was very organized with her lectures and assignments.
Maybe just reiterating material individually so we aren't reviewing a bunch of materials meshed together, that way it isn't as confusing.
Keeping the class more engaged. She does this with the poll questions but calling out students for their thoughts on a question could keep every one engaged.
probably slow down a bit.
I don't have any reccomendations obviously we did not have as much time but I think explaining topics a little bit deeper I've had no issues with anything; it's an awesome course.
The only thing is maybe to move quicker through the lessons
